General Information

History

Chartered under state law, a public housing authority is a not-for-profit public corporation. A housing authority is an independent organization with a relationship to federal, state, and local governments; however, it is not a part of any governmental body. This organizational structure allows housing authorities to work in conjunction with local governments and agencies to develop long-term housing strategies for communities. In 1937, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) charged communities with the development of affordable housing in order to provide “decent, safe, and sanitary housing for low and moderate income families.”

In 1964, Shipp Street and Jefferson Circle Homes were established. Oakside Drive Homes was constructed in 1982. The Canton Housing Authority administers 145 subsidized apartments.

Eligibility

To live in public housing, you must meet certain requirements set by federal law. Your income must be below a certain level, depending on your household size. Public housing is available to citizens, non-citizens with eligible immigration status, and families with citizens and non-citizens. The housing authority will conduct a criminal and landlord history.
